FATAL SLEEP

Steve Thornton, of Owensboro, Killed This Morning by the Cannon-Ball.

HE SLEPT ON THE TRACK

The Remains Horribly Mangled and Dragged Fifty Feet
by the Train.

INQUEST HELD THIS MORNING

Steve Thornton, colored, was run over and killed by 204, the "cannon-ball" which came in on the Illinois Central this morning at 1:30 o'clock, at the Tennessee street crossing. The engineer discovered him too late, and although he applied the air the train had crunched over him and horribly mangled him before it was brought to a standstill.

It had to be backed off him, and he only gasped once or twice and all was over. Thornton is said to have been asleep on the track. He had been to town drinking, and a whiskey bottle and deck of cards were found near him.

From the fragments of flesh and chips of bones scattered for about fifty feet down the track, it was seen that he was dragged a considerable distance before the train was stopped. Thornton had been in the employ of the railroad for over a year, but had been here only about five weeks, at work on the new Illinois Central yards near the city. His home was at Owensboro, but he had worked recently at Nashville, Tenn. He was about 35 years old, and was known to all the other workmen. He drank a great deal, and is supposed to have gotten too much while in town last night and laid down to rest on the track and fallen asleep.

The remains were left in the yard, near Tennessee street, until this morning at 8:30 o'clock, when they were put in a box and brought to the city by Undertaker Nance, Justice Emery holding an inquest.

The verdict of the jury was that the deceased was accidentally killed by a train. The remains will be held in order to ascertain the cause of his people.

IT IS SETTLED.

Hon. Elihu Root Takes the Place
Vacated by Alger.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Hon. Elihu Root, of New York, who was yesterday offered the secretaryship of war, the place vacated by Hon. R. A. Alger, has notified the president of his acceptance. He will enter upon the duties of the place August 1.

BEGUN TODAY.

LONDON, Ky., July 22.—The trial of the Philpotts was begun today at Manchester. There was no prospect of any trouble at last accounts, but still there was much suppressed interest.

It is rumored here that a crowd of men fired into the house of Sol Maffin, in this county, but nobody was hurt.

TROOPS CALLED FOR.

CLEVELAND, O., July 22.—Four companies of troops have been called out to do duty against the strikers. There was more violence last night but there has been none today. The troops will be used to not only quell the troubles to protect the street car company's property. The strikers are quite threatening.

WAS LYNCHED.

MEXICO, Mo., July 22.—While Frank Embury, a negro, who had been assaulted a fourteen-year-old child, was being taken to Fayette for trial he was taken from the sheriff by a mob and lynched. He was hanged to a tree not far from where he was taken from the officer.

M'Laurin Leads.

JACKSON, Miss., July 22.—Governor McLaughlin leads easily in the primary being held to select a favorite for United States senator. His opponent is Private John Allen, but the latter is hardly a good second in the contest.

INCREASED PER CAPITA.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 22.—The state school per capita is announced as $2.70 instead of $2.30, which was the per capita of last year. Increase of revenue is given as the increase of the tax.

NEW YORK O. K.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The street cars are running almost as usual here and in Brooklyn. The strikers are all returning to work. Even the leaders admit the trouble is about ended, the strikers losing by the tie up.

A MINE CAVED IN.

AKRON, O., July 22.—There was a horror fear this morning. A mine caved in and four men were killed and ten injured. The mine is in a very bad condition.

HAD TO LEAVE.

Bob Oakland and Zula Winters
Leave for Paris Unknown.

Colored circles are somewhat stirred up over the disappearance of Bob Oakland, a well known barber, and Zula Winters, who vanished about the same time Bob did.

According to reports Oakland went across the river and sold intoxicating liquor without a license a few days ago at a colored bar, and the Winters woman was one of the bartenders. The federal authorities of Illinois were apprised of the fact and got hot after Oakland, which is said to have caused him to leave and forget to take a wife and one or two children with him.

GRIFFIN AND GLASS.

THE TWO NOTED THIEVES
HELD TO ANSWER.

Both Charged With Housebreaking—Jim Murray Acquitted In Two Cases.

Pete Griffin and Henry Glass were this morning held to answer in Judge Sanders court on a charge of breaking into Ike Friedman's tailor shop and stealing $45, an order for $20 and five points patterns, worth about $25. Jim Murray, the saloon keeper, was acquitted on a similar charge and in a case for receiving stolen goods.

The evidence showed that Griffin and Glass had been working for Murray at his saloon, and that the former was seen together on the night the tailor shop was robbed. The pants patterns were found in a bureau drawer at Murray's saloon, but Griffin took them there, and claimed to Murray that he bought them, and Murray knew nothing about what kind of goods they were not where they came from.

Griffin swore he bought the goods from a woman named Murphy, but the court didn't believe him, and held him to answer, together with Glass, who was seen with Griffin, and is known to have been in the saloon. He is known to have been in the saloon, and is known to have been in the saloon, and is known to have been in the saloon.

Murray was fully exonerated, and his only mistake seems to have been having anything to do with the two toughs, Griffin and Glass.

NEW LIBRARY.

Chief Woods Is Going to Have the Fire Laddies Fixed Up Right.

Chief Woods, of central fire department, is preparing to provide for the firemen at his station a library of several hundred books. As a means of getting the funds, he is to have a souvenir edition of Paducah, dated back to '59, issued, and the proceeds are to go towards buying the books.

Mr. Short, of Birmingham, Ala., arrived yesterday afternoon to get up the edition, and will begin Monday. He is an expert, and with the willingness of the cause, and the popularity of the chief and his men, it is more than probable that the slight difficulty will be encountered in getting the material at good prices. The library will be added to from time to time, and will have a good and wholesome effect on the members of the fire department, who will then have a profitable method of employing their time when not out on runs. It is hoped the effort will be a success.

GRAND LARCENY.

This is the Charge Against Chas.
Jones, Watchman.

Charles Jones, watchman at the Paducah dry docks, was arrested last night on a charge of grand larceny. For some time past Superintendent Young Taylor had been missing material and tools from the docks, and yesterday afternoon late took out a search warrant and had it served on Jones. A quantity of goods, including tools and oakum, were found in his house, and he was arrested and gave bond. The total value of the goods was about $25.

The case was this morning called in the police court and continued until Monday.

POSTMASTER HANBERRY.

Postmaster Hanberry, who was hurt at Eddyville by jumping off the cannon ball, is reported about the same. While he seems to get along fairly well, little hope is entertained for his recovery.

AMERICANS ARE WINNING.

LONDON, July 22.—The Harvard athletic team are winning most of the big events in the international field sports today. An immense attendance is witnessing the sports and the Americans are being cheered in fitful raptures by many spectators from their own land.

The railroad commissioners have concluded that they could not operate the railroads from observing the long and short haul clause of the constitution on the many articles included in the board of trade's petition. The commissioners will, upon petition, consider each case separately. At the same time, the commissioners gave out their opinion in the coal case, which is published in full in the Courier-Journal.

HIDDEN AWAY

Miss Stovall, Missing for Many Weeks, Found at Last.

Graves County Officers Located
Her Near Wickliffe Thursday Afternoon.

WICKLIFFE, Ky., July 21.—Miss Maud Stovall, the Graves county girl who has been missing since June 5, was located at the home of Bill Munster, a mile and a half from this city, yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police McNott and Marshal Brann, of Mayfield, upon information furnished by J. B. Wickliffe and Jack Norris. McNott and Brann came to Miss Stovall and Sun Cloyes drove through Mayfield yesterday morning between 4 and 5 o'clock and came in this direction. They procured a rig and started in pursuit, finding the two at the place already mentioned.

In talking to a reporter Brann said that a well known man of the neighborhood was mixed up in the affair. He was of the opinion that Cloyes had been employed by him in the matter.

When the party went out to Mr. Munster's and McNott entered the house Miss Stovall fainted and was unable to talk for some time. Cloyes was asleep, and after being aroused he did not appear the least bit afraid or excited and claimed that he had the girl under arrest and had found her for the purpose of getting the reward.

Cloyes says the girl has not been over a mile from the neighborhood since her disappearance, and has spent most of the time concealed in a p-d barn. He claims to have gotten a permission from a Graves county justice of the peace, at the request of the young girl, to bring her to the house of her father, George Stovall, who resides about four miles northeast of Wickliffe.

Cloyes started back to Mayfield last night, as did McNott and Brann. Miss Stovall went to the home of her father and spent the night. The two went to Mayfield this morning. There is considerable excitement in Graves, and the outcome of the case will be watched with interest.

When the girl reached Mayfield on the afternoon train from Wickliffe, accompanied by her father, she seemed in agony, and seemed almost too weak to stand, as she was supported by her father from the car to the buggy. The train was met by nearly 1,000 people, who had heard of her father having found her near Wickliffe. She was taken in the buggy immediately to Farmington.

RAT ELECTROCUTED.

Tom Reed And His Employer Came Near Being Likewise.

Tom Reed is the name of County Physician Pendley's office boy. One of his hobbies is to catch rats and electrocute them. Yesterday he caught a rat in a trap at the office and took it into the yard to work on the rodent.

The electric light wire he was to use was about twenty feet long and charged with an adult current. A short time after the boy disappeared with the cage and wire Dr. Pendley went out to witness the operation, and saw his office boy lying in a heap, and emitting a weak and infantile groan occasionally. The doctor rushed to the rescue and in a second or two found himself speeched. He could not shout for assistance although he knew what was going on, and could not turn loose. All sorts of grotesque visions passed through his mind and he realized that it would be best to simply run, and he did so, thus getting away from the boy and wire, and at the same time breaking the hold of the boy. All this happened in much less time than it takes to tell it, and for this reason the incident was without serious consequences.

MENIFEE'S BOY.

Lockup Keeper Menifee's four year old boy came out today in pants. He discarded his dresses, much against his will, it might be added, and was dressed by Marshal Collins and some others about the city hall and sent home to his mother, who did not know him. He was well pleased at first, but on being asked to go to school in the new garb wore off, and it is predicted will go to bed with them on tonight, unless they are forcibly taken off of him.

STOLE A PISTOL.

Constable Anderson Miller came to town this morning with Jim Walden, colored, and lodged him in jail on a charge of stealing a pistol belonging to a man named Schultz. The negro confessed and will be given a hearing before Justice Bryant Tuesday.

Official figures show that 195,377 male and 116,348 female immigrants arrived in the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30 last. Nine men were killed and four in knot British torpedo-boat destroyer, Bulfinch.

The heavy rains about Manila will make military operations impossible for some time to come. The Parang bridge has been swept away, and the garibans at Imus and Bacoor are cut off.

Major General Otis has replied to the indictment by the war correspondent. His reply is not made public, but the war department has issued a statement that Otis has denied the charges.

AS A SUSPECT.

Will Clark, Colored, Arrested
Last Night on Suspicion.

Will Clark, a negro giving that name, was arrested by officers Sney and Fottrell last night with three horses and half a dozen big knives, in his possession. He said he was from the Farmer farm, between Murray and Fulton, but the officers think he has entirely too many horses for an hour's man in his circumstances, and put him in jail for a few days. "So his stock can be taken care of."

Nothing is known about the negro except what he told him, and this is not credited.

ANOTHER BOOM

This Is Probable at Grand Rivers, According to Reports.

Iron Furnaces Built There Several Years Ago Disposed of to English Capitalists.

There is a probability of another boom at Grand Rivers, Ky. For several weeks it has been rumored that negotiations were pending for the purchase of the inactive iron furnaces, and the following dispatch in yesterday's Louisville Times speaks for itself.

KUTAWA, Ky., July 21. A report has reached here that the iron furnaces erected several years ago at Grand Rivers during the business boom at that place are to be again in operation. It has been a well known fact that for a year past English capitalists had had an option on the plant, and it is now learned from a reliable source that the deal has been consummated.

There are at present about sixty vacant houses, erected during the boom at Grand Rivers, and which have been purchased with the plant. A greater portion of the first-class furnaces and machinery is in good condition. Another boom in the village is now anticipated, and it is generally believed that the plant will be in operation within two months.

POOR DOGGIE.

John Theobald Has a Cremation at His Place Near the City.

Mr. John Theobald, the butcher, had a very highly valued rat terrier until yesterday. Now there is nothing out a few charred remains of the poor canine, which suffered death as a result of his own imprudence.

There is a furnace at the place of Mr. Theobald, which is used to heat water for scalding hogs that are being prepared for the market. A fire is made in it but once or twice a week, and it was so used inside that "Prince"—that was the name of the pet dog—habitually went inside to keep cool, and by lying in the ashes, to keep the furs from annoying him.

Yesterday Mr. Theobald's son went to the furnace to build a fire, and found the dog inside, as usual. He called him out, and stocked the furnace with paper and kindling. He went away for a short time, leaving the door open, and when he went back and touched a match to the inflammable stuff in the furnace, forgot all about the dog. As the flames began to crackle, Mr. Theobald and his son began to hear distant yelps from some canine in evident distress. They finally recognized them as from their own dear Prince, and Mr. Theobald casually remarked that he guessed "Watch," that was the big dog's name, "was fighting Prince."

Finally, the howls became more and more maudlin, and at last ceased. It then struck them that he had been left in the furnace. They rushed to the door and pulled it open, but it was too late. Poor Prince was roasted done to a turn, and was beyond earthly help. The dog's sad fate was a matter of much sorrow to the family.

BOXES NEARLY COMPLETED.

Chief Woods is preparing to place the fire alarm box keys up. The boxes are of galvanized iron, with glass fronts, and will be attached to the top of the fire alarm boxes, with the key inside on a chain. The boxes will be put up next week.

MAJOR O'CONNEL DUE.

Major O'Connell and assistants, of Louisville, will be here Monday and Tuesday to enlist for the regular army, Philippine service. The recruits will be shipped direct from here to San Francisco.

SMALL BLAZE.

The fire department was called this morning at 2:05 o'clock to 858 Washington street by a blaze in one of Sam Liebel's houses. The roof of the house was burned off, but the damage was not great.

JUSTICE LITTLE'S COURT.

Monday morning Justice J. H. Little will hold court at his office on Third street, and will have a large docket of civil cases to dispose of.

The Knights of Pythias of New Orleans are up in arms at the refusal of the United States Government of Colombia to permit the removal of the body of an American knight buried at Boca.

SOME BENEFITS

That Will Result From a Change to City's of Second Class.

Ten Years in Which to Pay for Certain Improvements—
Other Advantages.

The changes that will result from the passage of Paducah from a city of the third to one of the second class, and the advantages to be derived from the transition, are too numerous to enumerate in full, but a few of them will no doubt be of interest to a large number of people.

To begin with, the commercial prestige that will be attained will not be insignificant. It would doubtless be a difficult matter to adduce any satisfactory proofs that it would add to the city's prestige in the commercial world, to people inclined to cavil at this progressive step, but it is probably obvious to men of observation and experience that the advantages to be gained from this source are not to be sneered at.

In the municipal government of cities of the second class many offices now filled by men who receive them as a gift for political services would then be controlled more by the competent men of the respective men. Larger salaries will be created and abolished in accordance with the plans decided by the government of cities of this size and population, and there will be a proportionate increase of responsibility with that of salary.

It is a well defined principle that more money paid for any purpose or in any office opens a larger and better field of competitive ability. Hence it is reasonable to presume that if more money were paid to certain officers better officers might be secured. There are people who will dispute this as fact, but they will be impelled by an impartial consideration to admit the theory.

One of the most important changes, however, is the ten year plan of paying for certain public improvements. Streets and sidewalks must be paid for by property owners, and the material of which the latter are to be made is determined by the board of public works, when properly approved. Whether bonds are issued, or the city has the ready money to pay for the improvements, the property owners at whose expense the work is done have ten years in which to pay for it, paying one tenth a year, and interest at five per cent. The latter is applied to paying the interest on the bonds, if bonds were issued, or to the city for the use of the money. Thus a city is enabled to get much better streets such as brick, asphalt or stone and the people are enabled to pay for it easier. After the streets and sidewalks are constructed, subsequent repairs are made at the expense half to the city and half the property owners.

Another feature of the new charter, and one that will save the city as much as a year as the increase in cost claimed by those opposed to the change, is the limitation of the board of education's quota of taxes. The board under the present charter can demand and obtain 50 cents on the $100, while under the proposed charter it can get but 35 cents on the $100. As the board has been drawing 50 cents for some time past, the reduction in this particular alone will be about $11,000 a year.

The jurisdiction of the police judge is extended under the new charter, and he has final jurisdiction in petty larceny cases, and can assess fines or send such offenders to work on the streets or in the work house instead of committing them to jail to be kept there in idleness for months at a time, at the expense of the tax payers.

All bills creating revenue are subject to amendment in both boards, and will have to be passed by both boards before they become a law. All public improvements are in the hands of a board of commissioners, who are supposed to superintend them personally, and who are personally responsible for them. Thus when anything in the nature of an improvement goes wrong, the board can be called down without ceremony.

SUES FOR $2,000.

Vernon Blewitt, the young man who was so seriously stabbed by John Sprague, near Benton, three weeks ago, today in the Benton circuit court filed suit against Sprague for $2,000 damages. The men, it will be remembered, had a difficulty over a horse.

Sprague was captured day before yesterday by a deputy sheriff and posse, and his examining trial is set for today before Judge R. L. Shen well at Benton.

RHODES CAPTURED AT LAST

John R. Rhodes, wanted for stabbing Chas. Mitchell, in Lyon county, a month or two ago, is under arrest. His home is at Bridges Landing, on the Tennessee river, and he and his chief fell out over who should sleep on some corn sacks. He was at one time one of the principals in the Rhodes-Colson feud of that section. He is in jail at Eddyville.

SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1899.

The Sun Publishing Company has made arrangements to greatly improve its telegraphic news service. A deal has been closed with the Scripps-McRae League—the greatest afternoon press association in the country—for its very splendid report. Commencing with Monday next, as a result of this deal, the Sun will not only give the best regular telegraphic report of any paper printed in Paducah but it will in fact print the only report of any legitimate character received in the city. The Sun during the Spanish-American war printed this same report, receiving it by special arrangements which were then possible, and the readers of the paper and the entire public will recall that the best reports which came to the city were always to be found in the Sun. Under the present arrangements, which have been permanently made this time, the Sun feels safe in promising its readers the best intelligence afloat, and when it is fresh, too. The Scripps-McRae League have a large corps of special correspondents in all news gathering centers, whether in this country or elsewhere, and the output is a heavy one both for the service of its representatives and for telegraphic toll.

The service naturally costs The Sun a good round sum, but the object of its management has been to give to its readers and other patrons the best paper within their ability to do so, and this new telegraphic service is only in keeping with this determination. The publishers of the paper believe the general public will appreciate its enterprise and respond with even a more liberal patronage than heretofore. Watch The Sun Monday and hereafter for the latest and best afloat.

That last letter of Capt. Stone's remains unanswered. Has it been withheld from Mr. Goebel?

Whether the independent or bolting Democratic movement amounts to much or little there will be many who will not vote the Louisville ticket. This is evident from what is to be found in the independent press and to be learned by talking to people from the surrounding sections and from other parts of the state. The idea may be mooted at by those who would not have it this way, and others may say it is too late to act, or that it is not wise to thus leave the party for the benefit of the Republicans, yet there will be an independent or bolting vote which will not be an insignificant one by a good deal. The people have long since ceased to vote at the dictation of trickery leaders and it has proven good for the Republican party and will prove good for the Democratic party—parties being the people first and last—that this is so.

The Covington Commonwealth—A Democratic paper which is printed right under the nose of the Kenton county boss—says there is much dissatisfaction in Democratic ranks over the high-handed way the Louisville convention was conducted and that the election in November will show this to be the case. There is no better paper in the state than the Commonwealth and it has always been owned by leading men of the city. But the Cincinnati Enquirer is for Goebel and as it has much influence in Covington the dissatisfaction may not be increased.

Kentucky Republicans have taken hold of the trust question, just as the Ohio Republicans did, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, which adds: "The Democratic conventions may talk a great deal and become hysterical, but the Republican party is the party of progress in this country, and to it alone we can look for any practical legislation on any important subject. Our Kentucky friends hold themselves ready to enact such laws as may be necessary to prevent trusts, pools, combinations or other organizations from combining to depreciate below its real value or to enhance the cost of any article, or to reduce the emoluments of labor." It strikes us that they have gone on at this question calmly and deliberately and with the intention of getting at some definite result. There is nothing wrong with Kentucky but her Goebellism.

REPUBLICAN RECOGNITION.
Louisville Commercial: "The Kentucky Republican platform is meeting with generally favorable comment abroad on account of the directness and candor with which it discusses the practical issues in the coming campaign. This is a distinguishing feature of the declaration of principles made at Lexington, and it is a feature which will impress itself upon the people of the state no less distinctly than it has already impressed itself upon the press of other states as the campaign of progress."

"A matter in point is the declaration of the Republican platform in favor of the establishment of a board of arbitration. It was the request of the several labor organizations of Kentucky of settling differences between employer and employee which prevail in many other states, and the Republican convention took up the idea in the same energetic and candid way that it dealt with other matters of concern to the whole people. It declared without equivocation for the establishment of a state board of arbitration and its endorsement with power to accomplish practical results. It gave the first recognition ever given by a political party in this state to conditions bearing strongly upon the welfare of labor, and it means much to the wage-workers in every department of industrial activity."

"The Republican party may be relied upon to fulfill its pledge to labor if it shall be invested by the people with the power to do so. It will take care that organized labor shall have proper recognition, and that the men in the mines, and in the factories, and in the shops, and on the railways of the state shall be fully heard wherever there are real differences between them and their employers. The Republicans of Kentucky are no less deeply concerned for the welfare of our wage-workers and our investment of capital in the industries of this state."

LOUISVILLE'S PROTEST.
The following is the wording of the petition being circulated in Louisville and Jefferson county asking for the holding of a meeting to condemn the late so-called Democratic convention held in the Metropolis and to consider the advisability of holding another convention to put out a new ticket. The petition speaks fully for itself.

"To the Democrats of Louisville and Jefferson county: The history of the late state convention is an appalling record of the triumph of fraud and treachery over the principle of popular representation. Yet in all the present arrangements, which have been permanently made this time, the Sun feels safe in promising its readers the best intelligence afloat, and when it is fresh, too. The Scripps-McRae League have a large corps of special correspondents in all news gathering centers, whether in this country or elsewhere, and the output is a heavy one both for the service of its representatives and for telegraphic toll."

Such a course of procedure destroyed the representative character of the convention. Your delegates, duly chosen, and with the regular credentials, were expelled, and delegates who had rejected were seated, and this process of destroying a Democratic convention was followed until three hundred votes were changed. Such a convention, so organized and so controlled, cannot unchallenged claim the allegiance of Democrats.

If that action be allowed to stand as the action of the party, the overthrow of Goebellism, which is as certain as it is imperative, will be the overthrow of Democracy. Furthermore, if in 1899 we consent to a machine nomination of a minority candidate, we must, in 1900, expect a machine rejection of the candidate of the people for president. William J. Bryan. To preserve popular control of party machinery, to lift the halo out of the mire of partisan politics, and to preserve popular rights without an appeal to arms, it is necessary for Democrats to act now, and to act together.

Therefore, we call on all men who care for popular institutions, peaceably to assemble at Library hall on the evening of Tuesday, July 25, to consider what steps shall be taken to put a genuine Democratic ticket in the field."

THE THIRD DAY.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 22.—The third day of the Epworth League convention was ushered in with early morning prayer meetings which were both well attended and full of enthusiasm. Before 10 o'clock Tent Epworth was besieged by a large crowd, then could gain admittance and those kept on the outside spent the morning in attendance on the numerous department conferences that were in session. The topic of the general session was "Methodism: Its Spirit and Life." Life in the local church, intellectual duties, the duties of the church toward the Epworth League and its officers, the duty of giving and a variety of other matters suggested by the general topic were discussed in an interesting manner by the bishops, the ministers and the lay delegates present. This afternoon social righteousness and good citizenship were discussed and this evening the regular sessions of the conference will be concluded with an open discussion on the subject of "Temperance." Tomorrow morning and evening the pulpits of the leading Protestant churches will be occupied by the eminent divines who are among the visitors.

If the colored boy can hold on that fast.

Society of Game Thieves.
Friedland boasts the most singular mutual protective society in the civilized world. In Assen recently a union was organized by seventeen game poachers, a comprehensive set of rules being adopted. None but a recognized game thief is eligible to membership. The convention decided that in the future the members of the union shall sell only to regular game dealers, and then only at current market prices. The dealers will be required to contribute a certain amount of money each year to the union's treasury. The principal object of the union is to support the families of such poachers as may be arrested and sent to prison. A cast-iron resolution forbids all members from killing game in the closed seasons, the argument being that the game lands must be enforced. The Netherlands code provides a fine of 10 florins and a term of imprisonment for killing game out of season.

Annie Clark, of West Court street, was yesterday afternoon admitted to the county poor farm. She had lived with Ida French for many years, and had been a resident of West Court street for twenty-five years or longer. She is a total wreck, and doubtless can not live long.

BRIDGE COMPLETED.

A new bridge in Fortson Bottom, near Woodville, has been completed, and Mr. T. W. Luttrell, to whom was let the contract, was allowed $214 out of the county levy fund this morning. The amounts paid out for road work this week, out of the same fund, were: W. R. Hocker, $142.57; J. W. Eaker, $156.

THE NEW LIGHTS.

It will cost the city $14,339.21 to put in the 21 additional lights provided for by the council, and the bill tabulated will be presented for the approval of the council by Mayor Lang before the material is ordered.

DICK CLYDE RAISED.

Diver John Patrick returned this afternoon from Kuttawa, where he succeeded in raising the Dick Clyde, which sank several weeks ago. The boat belongs to Bolt & Co., and will be brought here about Monday to go on the ways.

Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll died at his home, Walston-Hudson, near Dobbs' Ferry, N. Y., the result of heart disease.
